

Organisations

1. Ministry of Education and Science of Georgia

<http://mes.gov.ge/index.php?lang=eng>

2. Shota Rustaveli National Science Foundation of Georgia

The Foundation's mission is to support the development of excellent and innovative scientific research in Georgia and the integration of Georgian researchers and young scientists in the international research area.

3. Regional Centre for Information and Scientific Development

RCISD located in Hungary is an innovative SME, founded by scientists and R&D managers to carry out scientific research but also for participating in coordinating & support actions, furthermore being a kind of back office where the management R&D activities can be outsourced.

4. Max Planck Institute of Molecular Cell Biology and Genetics

The Institute, employing 500 scientists from over 50 countries, administers pioneering basic research. Research programs of the Institute span multiple scales of magnitude, from molecular assemblies to organelles, cells, tissues, organs, and organisms.

5. Institute of Fundamental Technological Research, Polish Academy of Sciences

The main task of the Institute is to conduct high quality research in the areas which are the focus of the world's science and technology. The most important fields of the Institute's expertise include theoretical and applied mechanics, theory of coupled mechanical and physical fields, theoretical and experimental mechanics of materials and structures, computational methods in mechanics, acoustoelectronics, and ultrasonic medical diagnostics.

EU Framework Programme for Research and Innovation "Horizon 2020"

6. Horizon 2020 is the biggest EU Research and Innovation programme ever, with nearly €80 billion of funding available over 7 years (2014 to 2020) – in addition to the private investment that this funding will attract. It promises more breakthroughs, discoveries and world-firsts by taking great ideas from the lab to the market.

8. SPIRE (Sustainable Process Industry through Resource and Energy Efficiency)

An alliance of eight sectors of the European process industry (cement, ceramics, chemicals, engineering, minerals and ore, non-ferrous metals, steel and water) launched a new initiative on Sustainable Process Industry through Resource and Energy Efficiency (SPIRE), which is now becoming a contractual public-private partnership (PPP) under the new EU framework programme Horizon 2020.

See SPIRE calls in the Work Programme 2018-2020 on p. 61:

15. CORDIS

CORDIS is the Community Research and Development Information Service.

It is the European Commission's primary public repository and portal to disseminate information on all EU-funded research projects and their results in the broadest sense.
